I have been trying all different types of input fields that I could find on the library's website. Every time I do I am greeted with an error saying that I am using a forbidden input tag. I have tried everything to make it look like a select list by copying and pasting all the code from their website, but no luck. Any tips? Here is the code: import React from 'react'; import { Select, Option } from 'react-select'; const PersonChoices = props => { return (
