2007A few thoughts on being a polar bear. Main menu Post navigation Trip to Churchill During the late summer and early fall I drove down from Edmonton to Churchill, Manitoba, to visit my family. They were staying at the Downtown Hudson's Bay House, a beautiful bed and breakfast in downtown Churchill that we stayed in a couple of years ago. I arrived at the airport in Winnipeg, then drove down the Churchill and Hudson Bay highway to the border. It is quite a drive. I think the total distance is about 750 km, but it takes about seven hours. The scenery is quite nice. The landscape is flat, and mainly farmland. Just like the rest of Canada, Churchill is heavily forested. I caught my first glimpse of Churchill as I drove along the transcanada highway. Churchill was settled by the Hudson Bay Company, and they have a small museum with some interesting artifacts that were found in the area. The view of the ice sheet and Churchill as the sun sets. We drove up to the lake, and the waterfront restaurants offer spectacular views of the icebergs, and the blue water. We picked up a couple of bottles of K'ehbereht, the local beer, and enjoyed the view. Our first stop was the Churchill Northern Studies Centre, where we learned about polar bears, the Inuit, and the area. We saw some great stuffed polar bears, and a couple of hundred pounds of fat. When we arrived at the bay, a couple of boats had come in with bear
