There is a field called username in my index. I want to update some documents by bulk put indnx_name But I want to add two conditions. If there are some other documents with a specific username, then I want to update those documents as well. If the username is not in the index, then I want to create it. For example, if my index has 5 documents with the username as 'xyz' and I want to add 2 more documents with the username as 'xyz', then I want the total number of documents in the index to be 5 (as it will have two documents with the same username). If I create 2 documents with the username as 'xyz' then the username field will be present in the index. I am not able to figure out how can I go about achieving this. A: Yes, it is possible.
