As of January 2011, all six of Penderecki's works for choir and orchestra (not including the rest of his choral music, for which other ensembles have recorded) are available on LP or CD. NEPO is dedicated to recording the complete works of the composer. The project was announced at the Penderecki Festival of Music held in September 2000 in Poznan. NEPO was formed in 2001, when Krzysztof Klodziński, the conductor of the Penderecki Festival, approached the NEPO about recording Penderecki's choral works. Other than recordings of his two orchestral symphonies by the Sinfonia of the Cleveland Orchestra, there were no recordings of Penderecki's complete choral works in existence. The NEPO received a grant from the American Composers Forum to travel to New York in August 2001 to record the songs, "Wind Song" and "From a Distance" (from the composition Poem), and "Fossil Number Three" (from the composition St. Luke Passion). In 2005, NEPO arranged to record "Wind Song" and "Fossil Number Three" with the National Philharmonic of Poland, in April. "From a Distance" and "St. Luke Passion" were recorded in June with the Boston-based Chamber Choir. In June and September 2006, the NEPO released the four other orchestral works it had recorded, and in November and December the NE r-reaktor-assign-rar-wethcha ..." When I realized that "R-reaktor-assign-rar-wethcha" meant that he could "leave it at that." I calmed down a bit. The next day, however, I was the victim of another dream, which actually led to one of the strangest and most unbelievable events that had happened in my life. This time I dreamt that I was in the "old house. I don't know what kind of place it was, but it looked very strange. For example, there was a lake. I was not alone in the house. There were voices coming from behind the wall. fffad4f19a
