I'd like to know how to use the code to break the first 20 results in the code above into a single line. For example, the first 20 results from the above code is "su1119245 . . Su1119245 ." i want to break that to get "su1119245 ..." in a single line of code. I am not sure how to do that in Python. I know it's a simple answer. I am not very advanced with programming. I am just learning it. A: import re results = re.findall('.*?(S+).*',".",join([x.rstrip() for x in row[0:20]]) + ".join([x.rstrip() for x in row[21:]]) This uses a regular expression to strip the first and last white space and joins them up with ".join() to get the results as a string Then, use findall to get all the parts of the string (ie. all the words before the space) To break them up in a list: results = [r.strip() for r in re.findall('.*?(S+).*',".",join([x.rstrip() for x in row[0:20]]) + ".join([x.rstrip() for x in row[21:]])]] Grand Combe The Grand Combe is a tectonic and volcanic complex located in the French Ardennes (Parc naturel régional du Morvan). The Grand Combe is a basaltic massif, the highest point of which is 825 m above sea level. It is the result of a massif (mainly a composite volcano), called Combe du Grand Bourdon, which intruded in granite, and by metamorphism. The basaltic complex contains volcanic fields from the Barremian and the uppermost part of the Aptian. The complex is one of the most active in 2d92ce491b
