Citește mai multe aici: National Institute for Literacy The hatchet (original Romanian: Baltagul), is a 1930 novel written by Mihail Sadoveanu. The novel describes a criminal, Anastase Balmez, who becomes the accomplice of an elderly police inspector from Bucharest, Hanu Ancutea, against the backdrop of a series of mysterious murders. The original Romanian edition was published in Oradea by Tipografia "Învățământul" and by Tipografia A. Traian in Bucharest. The 1939 English translation was produced by M. Sadoveanu himself, and edited by Garret FitzGerald (his wife, Luiza Sadoveanu-FitzGerald, contributed some 200 notes). The novel was included in the Romanian anthology "Volumul II" («Volumul II», Fundatia Storia, 2011, page 189). Lectura cu mare succes anii 80: Baltagul. A lucrat cu Calin Georgescu. Anterior prenumtarea numelui tipograficui A. Traian, Baltagul ("ancia"), a fost publicat în 1923 de "Tipografia Tipu". Hindu: Baltagul - Mihail Sadoveanu Prădătorii de biblie (in English : The Bible-Killer) is a 1938 novel that was written by Mihail Sadoveanu. The title of the book is a reference to the Biblical book of Job. The novel describes Dr. Balmez, a surgeon of "cucul Moldovei" ("dr. monderiator"), who is a murderer of poor people, women, and children (who are his patients in the hospital). Despite of being the murderer and active criminal, Dr. Balmez also has a passionate and sincere love for his wife, whom he names "Ancutea" (Ananka). The murder subplot plays no significant role in the novel. The book makes heavy use of references to literature (novels, short stories, poems, etc.), culture, and current events. It opens with a citation from the first chapter of the novel Poezia Enălțării
